Oshkosh Public Library Highlights February 2024

- Community Engagement Librarian Sandy Toland presented several talks on a variety of topics that are proving to be popular with local community groups. On Jan. 22 she delivered a talk on Blue Zones, developed in partnership with the Oshkosh Seniors Center, to a group of 15 at Bella Vista; on Jan. 30 members of the AAUW learned about the Orphan Train; and 23 members of Winnebago County Association of Home & Community Education gathered under the Dome on Feb. 19 to learn about the Underground Railroad.
- 2. Ten local children in grades K-5 wrote stories for the library's Young Authors Program. Using winter-themed prompts, the writers wove whimsical tales about building the coolest snow fort and life as a snowman. Their stories and illustrations were bound into an anthology and presented at the Young Authors Celebration on Feb. 24 bringing the kids into the ranks of published authors! Copies of the anthology will be available for checkout and included in the library's local history collection. For these fledgling writers, the program met its goal to empower the next generation of authors to explore their imaginations, develop their writing skills and build self-confidence through the art of storytelling.
- 3. Mad Science of Wisconsin returned to the library Jan. 27 with its interactive program, Sounds Like Science. The 24 kids who attended this high energy event learned about sounds and sound waves, using ordinary objects to demonstrate the concepts behind these complex ideas.
- 4. The Lunar New Year took center stage at OPL in January and February, with displays and programs focused on celebrating the Year of the Dragon.
 - A cultural program presented by the Northeast Wisconsin Chinese Association featured traditional dances, authentic snacks, and hands-on activities, including a small dragon dance and crafts. Twenty-eight children, teens and adults attended the event under the Dome.
 - A mini-mural created for the N.E.W. Dragon Boat Festival in September was displayed in the First Floor Reading Room throughout January and February.
 - Cultural items were displayed on the second floor and a collection of LEGO dragons created by a library volunteer was displayed in the Reading Room.
 - The powerful beats of Oshkosh Taiko filled the Dome and beyond on Feb. 10 when the UW Oshkosh-based group brought its dynamic performance to the library. The ensemble entertained 100 people with their drumming, shared lessons about Japanese culture and engaged the audience in song and dance throughout the performance.
- 5. Local History and Genealogy Librarian Michael McArthur showcased additions to the library's treasure trove of genealogy and local history resources on Feb. 8. The program was sponsored by the Winnebagoland Genealogical Society, with 13 people attending.
- 6. Two fourth grade classes from Webster Stanley Elementary School visited the library recently to do research for a unit on biographies. Their teachers bring students to the library at least four times each year to learn how to search for materials, check out fiction titles and get excited about the Summer Reading Challenge.

7. The library is now offering Saturday sessions of the popular Read to a Dog program to better accommodate the busy schedules of local families. In addition to the longstanding Monday time slots, appointments can now be scheduled on select Saturdays starting at 10 a.m. to read to Gracie, a black Lab who is a wonderful listener! Read to a Dog gives kids a fun opportunity to improve their confidence and reading skills.

Library Director's Report

February 2024

Since the Board meeting of January 25, library staff and I have been at work on the following:

- On Friday, January 26, I, along with Lisa Sumter Voss and Laura McDonald, met with Quill Creative and discussed the re-branding work done for the library by that firm. I shared my feedback, and they have agreed to supply a quote for the slight but significant change order that my feedback calls for. Also, as part of that discussion was Quill's recommendation of a local specialist who may be able to help the library craft a rollout plan for this important public relations effort. Before that rollout work begins, I intend a complete review with the Board so that it can be discussed and understanding/commitment might be as broadly shared as possible.
- The week of January 29th and into the next week, I conducted one-on-one interviews with key library staff at all levels and in all departments of the organization. Recurring themes emerged and seem to indicate some needed changes to procedure and policy that I wish to discuss with the Board in a closed special session before the next regular meeting of the Board in March.
- On Tuesday, February 6, I took part in an all-day strategic plan review with all City department heads, managers and supervisors, including all of those from the library, who were very well received by their peers in the City.
- I interviewed with the Oshkosh Herald's Jonathan Richie on February 8 and the Herald ran a very complimentary piece the following week. I have gotten positive feedback about the article.
- On February 12, I met with Michael Borucke of Repair Café Oshkosh to discuss their moving their program to the library starting later in the year. The waiver is currently under review by City legal. When that is cleared for usage, we will plan to move forward with the program being held here.
- On February 14, I presented to the current Leadership Oshkosh class for "Education Day," held at Fox Valley Technical College's Oshkosh Campus. Ms. Lisa Voss and Mr. Joe Bongers were kind enough to be in attendance to underscore the library's commitment to education and Leadership Oshkosh—both Ms. Voss and Mr. Bongers are alumnae of that program.
- As of this writing (February 22), staff is finalizing the planning for staff in-service day, scheduled for Friday, March 1st. Thus far, the agenda is dominated by two major initiatives: first, an abbreviated but complete training in the Total Quality Management approach to library operations, facilitated by myself. Training materials for the day have been ordered. The second is active shooter training, presented by Oshkosh Police Department, with our gratitude.
- Due to rising costs and usage, we are in the position of having to limit allowable Hoopla usage to five checkouts per month per user starting March 1. The 10-per-month limit was intended to be a temporary pandemic closure measure and the limit is necessary to keep the service sustainable.

- I met with City Manager Mark Rohloff and Winnebago County Human Services Director Bill Topel on February 16 to discuss ways the library and Human Services might partner in the future. The conversation was promising.
- We are currently entering data in the DPI's annual report online form. The report is due March 1 and I see no reason we will not meet or exceed that deadline.

Respectfully Submitted,

Darryl Eschete
